Our Commitment

The University of St. Thomas mandates that all employees perform their duties with professionalism, integrity and respect for all.

Public Safety commits to maintaining a department that is trustworthy and responds quickly, positively, and compassionately to our community. It is therefore critical to allow a process for honest feedback for all department employees, and it is essential that truthfulness is maintained in the submission and investigation specifically about complaints against Public Safety.

The University has established an online form for complaints about employees to be submitted. All complaints against Public Safety are reviewed by Human Resources, with follow up and resolution done in coordination with the Director of Public Safety.

Similarly, you may file a police misconduct complaint against an employee of the Saint Paul Police Department or Minneapolis Police Department. If you believe a police officer was contractually working at or for the University of St. Thomas, please also submit basic details using our online reporting process so Public Safety can review the details of the complaint for future employment considerations.

Bernardi Staff

The Bernardi Campus Director serves as the primary supervisor for campus operations. The director supervises and works directly with the Facilities Manager and four housekeeping-kitchen staff.

BERNARDI CAMPUS

The University of St. Thomas Bernardi Campus is located on the west bank of the Tiber River at Lungotevere delle Armi in Rome, Italy. Purchased by St. Thomas in 1999, the Bernardi Campus provides housing to St. Thomas students and others participating in academic and summer programs and offers accommodations for overnight guests.

Situated in the heart of the modern Prati section of Rome, the campus is near both the center of Rome and Vatican City. Originally built as a private home in 1923, the building was purchased by an order of Spanish nuns in the 1950s. In 1999 the University restored and modernized the building with contemporary furnishings and spacious sleeping rooms.

Facilities

The Bernardi campus can house a maximum of fifty people (students, guests, and staff included). The 17 student rooms on two residential floors, including 3 triples, 9 doubles and 5 singles, can accommodate a maximum of 32 students. In addition to the student rooms, the Bernardi Campus maintains two staff apartments and four guestrooms for guests of the university, friends, and families of the students, and alumni.

A fully functional basement floor provides a computer lab, students' kitchenette, dining room, and laundry facilities. The main floor offers a chapel, guest room, and salotto (sitting room), in addition to the director's and facilities manager's main offices. Adjacent to the fourth floor is a rooftop terrace.

Guests (non-students) make room reservations through the Bernardi Campus Director and must be a known UST community member or sponsored by one. Because the Bernardi Campus makes such arrangements and does not offer hotel-style reservations to the general public, a higher level of security is maintained on campus.

Building Hours

Sunday – Thursday Building is locked at 11:30 p.m.

Friday – Saturday Building is locked at 2 a.m.

For security and safety purposes, specific public areas in the building, such as the rooftop terrace, kitchen, dining room, and front office, are closed and locked after certain hours in the evening or at the discretion of the Bernardi staff.

Police Protection

The Bernardi Campus is situated within the Prati section of Rome, a mostly residential community within the first Municipio (similar to a police precinct). The Rome Questura (police) provide active patrol in the area and are headquartered only a few blocks from campus at Via Ruffini, 1 (Telephone: 06.328.071). While Questura presence in Prati and all other areas of Rome is both conspicuous and comforting, Bernardi Campus students, staff and guests need to follow crime prevention logic and take common-sense precautions to reduce the chances of becoming a victim of crime.

In addition to normal police protection, the Bernardi Campus Director has fostered and continues to maintain a positive working relationship with the Prati Questura Inspector. This working relationship advances the likelihood that Bernardi Campus community members begin their Rome experience as seamlessly as possible. The director and Inspector ensure that students, faculty, staff, and guests have followed visitor registration requirements and have been given appropriate crime prevention information. Additionally, should issue with war, terrorism or homeland security become a concern, the director and inspector will provide relevant information and current updates.

Crime statistics supplied at the close of this document are provided by the Rome Questura in conjunction with the efforts of the St. Thomas Campus Security Survey Administrator (currently the Public Safety Associate Director/Manager of Investigations), the Bernardi Campus Director, and other campus security authorities (primarily the building manager).

As one might imagine, the crime definitions provided in this document may be quite different from those found in Italy. All efforts have been made by the Campus Security Survey Administrator and the Bernardi Director to ensure that definitions are properly translated and scored for reporting purposes.

(i) Policies for making timely warning reports to members of the campus community regarding the occurrence of crimes described in paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

Timely Warnings

The Department of Public Safety is authorized by the university to maintain accurate law enforcement records of all criminal activity on campus, near campus, or involving the university community.

Public Safety has a strong working relationship with the Dean of Students, Residence Life, Human Resources, and other departments and campus security authorities. Public Safety works closely with these reporting authorities to ensure timely reporting of criminal information while maintaining or extending confidentiality (except where required by law or university policy).

In order to make timely warnings to the University of St. Thomas community, it is important for all faculty, staff, students, and visitors to notify the Department of Public Safety and proper authorities when a crime occurs. Accurate and prompt reporting ensures Public Safety is able to evaluate, consider and send timely warning reports, disclose crimes through ongoing disclosure processes such as the posting of crimes in the Daily Crime Log and accurately documenting reportable crimes in its annual statistical disclosure.

University of St. Thomas encourages accurate and prompt reporting to Public Safety and local police when the victim of a crime elects to or is unable to, make such a report.

Various efforts are made to inform the campus community in a timely way about crime and suspicious activity, personal safety issues, and other crime-related concerns on campus and in the neighboring community. Sharing timely information educates our community and aids in the prevention of similar incidents. For these reasons, Public Safety and the university go beyond reporting requirements found in this law by sharing information about more than just the crimes gathered in this report. To protect confidentiality, Public Safety withholds the names of victims from its timely warnings.

These postings describe crimes or security concerns and solicit information from the university community regarding the reported incidents. They also share important crime prevention tips, ways to report a crime, and phone numbers to use to share information.

There are three different types of postings and circumstances for which a community notification or timely warning will be issued:

Public Safety Community Notifications

Public Safety advisories are printed on yellow paper and describe crimes on or off campus that are important to the university community. While not as critical as the incidents described in Public Safety alerts, advisories pose a significant concern for the safety and wellbeing of students, faculty, staff, and guests.

Public Safety Alerts

Public Safety alerts are printed on red paper and describe situations or incidents of the greatest magnitude. Alerts can include incidents such as robberies, burglaries, multiple thefts on campus, or aggravated assaults.

The Public Safety Department is responsible for developing and issuing timely warnings to the campus community. Public Safety can seek assistance with content of these timely warnings from other departments and agencies.

Timely warnings are disseminated to the campus community through paper copies posted on doors and walls near primary entrances to University of St. Thomas on-campus buildings and residence facilities. An electronic copy is also sent out through campus email through our mass notification system to current faculty, staff, and students. Our system is an opt-out system, which means faculty, staff, and students are automatically enrolled unless they opted out of receiving notifications. Timely warnings are posted to the Public Safety Department website at the following link: <https://www.stthomas.edu/publicsafety/alertsadvisories/>

Please watch for Public Safety bulletins, advisories, and alerts posted in campus buildings and in university publications throughout the year. Our safety as a community depends on each of us staying informed.

Rome Specific:

Depending on the particular circumstances of the crime, especially in all situations that could pose an immediate threat to the community and individuals, the Bernardi campus staff will provide immediate community notification by posting a notice on the message board at the base of the central staircase. Anyone with information warranting a timely warning should report the circumstances to the Bernardi campus staff.

The Department of Public Safety may also post a notice on the campus-wide electronic bulletin board, providing the university community with more immediate notification for adverse events on the main (U.S.) campus. In such instances, a copy of the notice is posted on the message board at the base of the central staircase. The electronic bulletin board is immediately accessible via computer by all on-campus faculty, staff, and students.

Students, faculty, staff, and guests are all advised to alert Bernardi staff of any suspicious persons and/or activities both in and around campus.

(ii) Policies for preparing the annual disclosure of crime statistics

How the Annual Security Report is Prepared

The Department of Public Safety Investigations Division compiles all required information and statistics for this brochure.

Statistics are collected using Public Safety Initial Complaint Reports, and from other reporting authorities including but not limited to local law enforcement agencies and officials of the university who have significant responsibility for student and campus activities. These university officials, known as Campus Security Authorities, include individuals in departments such as Athletics, Enrollment Services, and the Dean of Students and Residence Life offices.

Other required information included in the annual Campus Security Act Report, including University of St. Thomas security-related policies and procedures, are also compiled from various sources.

By October 1st of each calendar year, all current employees and students are electronically notified of the availability of this report and how to request a copy. This report is accessible on the Public Safety website at:

\(http://www.stthomas.edu/publicsafety/prevention/campussecurityact/\),

The report is also made available upon request at Public Safety office located in Morrison Hall main level on the northeast corner.

All reasonable attempts have been made to identify all reported criminal activity and to present the crime statistics in this report in accordance with the Campus Security Act and its amendments.

(iii) A list of the titles of each person or organization to whom students and employees should report the criminal offenses.

Who Students and Employees Should Report Criminal Offenses

The Department of Public Safety encourages all faculty, staff, students, and visitors of St. Thomas to report all crimes and suspicious activity directly to Public Safety. Because safety issues impact the whole community, the Department of Public Safety encourages such reports even when the victim of such crime elects or is unable to make such a report. At the request of the reporting victim or witness, Public Safety will make every effort to maintain or extend confidentiality while respecting law and university policy.

Crime and suspicious activity may be reported on a voluntary, confidential basis to:

Department of Public Safety

- On public property immediately adjacent to and accessible from campus

The above-noted crimes within these geographic locations are statistically counted if they are reported to local police agencies, the Department of Public Safety, or to a Campus Security Authority.

Definition of Campus Security Authority

The Department of Education defines a Campus Security Authority as “any official of the university who has significant responsibility for students and campus activities.” Student, employees and other members of the university community should report any of the criminal offenses above for the purpose of making a timely warning and the annual statistical disclosure.

Examples of Campus Security Authorities include but are not limited to:

- The Dean of Students
- The Athletics Director
- Team coaches
- Faculty advisors to student groups

A faculty member is not considered a Campus Security Authority unless he or she serves as an advisor to a student group or has other significant responsibility for student and campus activity beyond the classroom.

Where a Campus Security Authority Should Report

If Campus Security Authorities have information regarding the above-cited crimes they must forward that information to the Public Safety contact below for reporting purposes.

The following forms should be used to report incidents as outlined above (one incident per form). If you have difficulty opening these attachments, please call the Public Safety contact below.

- Crime Statistic Report Form

Note: The Campus Security Authorities are told it is important that an exact date and location of the incident be included in the report. In addition, please provide a brief description of the incident so that crimes can be appropriately classified in accordance with the crime definitions published under the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting program.

If they have questions regarding this request, or if they would like to discuss a specific incident, please call the Public Safety contact below.

Please return completed forms in a "Confidential" envelope to:

(3) A statement of current policies concerning security of and access to campus facilities, including campus residences, and security considerations used in the maintenance of campus facilities

Security Measures and Access

Building Hours

Sunday – Thursday Building is locked at 11:30 p.m.

Friday – Saturday Building is locked at 2 a.m.

For security and safety purposes, specific public areas in the building, such as the rooftop terrace, kitchen, dining room, and front office, are closed and locked after certain hours in the evening or at the discretion of the Bernardi staff.

Access Control

The Bernardi campus is a gated campus with one main electronic key-pad access gate. Each resident is given a four-digit 'secret code' that can access the front gate and main entrance of the building. In addition, each student is given a key card that opens their room and assigned bathroom. Residents must carry their card key with them at all times. For security reasons, residents must always exercise caution and be sure the gate is closed tightly when coming or going.

Door Alarms

All Bernardi campus exterior doors have contact alarm sensors and operate on preset schedules as defined by the director.

Security Cameras

Security cameras are located on campus grounds and are, at appropriate times, recorded to magnetic media for investigative purposes.

Emergency Safety Lighting

Sufficient interior and exterior emergency safety lighting exists at the Bernardi Campus and maybe set on a timed schedule for security measures. Emergency egress lighting exists in hallway areas and near doors in the event of a fire.

Fire Extinguishers

Fire extinguishers are conveniently located throughout the Bernardi campus and are regularly tested and maintained.

Entry to Campus after Building Is Closed

If a student will be absent from campus overnight, written notification and a phone number where the student can be reached in case of emergency must be provided to the campus director at least 24 hours in advance. If students are expected to arrive on campus after building hours, they must make arrangements with the campus director at least 24 in advance. Violation of the building hours constitutes disorderly conduct and disciplinary action will be taken.

Maintenance of Campus Facilities

Health and Safety Inspections

Due to the unique nature of the campus, health and safety inspections of all the rooms, bathrooms and student lounges will be conducted each semester. The Bernardi Campus Director will notify students of these inspections at least four days in advance.

As always, residents should practice fire safety procedures. Extension cords, halogen lamps, and candles are not allowed. If a room does not meet sufficient minimum standards of cleanliness or safety practices, citations will be issued to residents of the room, and they will be given 48 hours to respond and improve the situation. Failure to properly respond by cleaning and maintaining the room will result in a fine of $50 posted on the student's account.

Maintenance

Requests for maintenance (equipment failures, bathroom problems, computer hardware issues, etc.) should be directed in writing to the facilities manager. Written suggestions or requests can be left at the front office; verbal requests should not be made, except in an emergency (i.e., water leak problems, etc.). Facilities Manager can be contacted at #001 on building phone by email nunzioremo.difulvio@stthomasrome.it.

The telephone at the Bernardi campus is not answered 24 hours a day; switchboard hours are posted on the front office door. Residents should advise friends and relatives of the switchboard hours, and remind them of the time difference (Rome is seven hours ahead of Central Standard Time). Staff is not responsible for locating students around the residence to accept incoming calls. Students may provide the director's cell phone number to parents for back-up emergency contact. This number should only be used if the campus number is not answered and the call is urgent.

(4) A statement of current policies concerning campus law enforcement that -

(i) Addresses the enforcement authority of Public Safety personnel, including their relationship with State and local police agencies and whether those Public Safety personnel have the authority to arrest individuals

Enforcement and arrest authority of Public Safety personnel

There is no Public Safety Department Personnel on the Bernardi Campus. The person responsible for assisting students and building security is Bernardi Campus Director Thanos Zyngas. Zyngas is not authorized to make any arrests. Any reports to Public Safety will be handled through our normal conduct process on the St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses. Bernardi Campus Director will work with administrators on the St. Paul campus on any conduct related issues.

Public Safety Jurisdiction

Public Safety's jurisdiction encompasses on campus property that includes campus residence halls, buildings, and/or facilities; designated non-campus properties and facilities; public property adjacent to and accessible from on-campus property, and leased, rented, or otherwise recognized and/or controlled buildings, spaces, and/or facilities. Public Safety has no jurisdiction or enforcement authority outside of its identified Clery reporting geography – this includes areas and/or properties that are not owned, rented, leased, recognized or otherwise controlled by the university.

Public Safety Department does not have any personnel on the Bernardi Campus. Public Safety will still document and implement resources available.

Working relationship between Public Safety, State and Local Police Agencies

The Department of Public Safety maintains a strong collaborative working relationship with federal, state and local police agencies. Public Safety works with these agencies on criminal matters, special operations, and security details during special events on and off campus.

Rome Questura (Police):

The Bernardi Campus Director has fostered and continues to maintain a positive working relationship with the Prati Questura inspector. This working relationship advances the likelihood that Bernardi Campus community members begin their Rome experience as seamlessly as possible. The director and Inspector ensure that students, faculty, staff, and guests have followed visitor registration requirements and have been given appropriate crime prevention information. Additionally, should issue with war, terrorism or homeland security become a concern, the director and inspector will provide relevant information and current updates.

We have a close working relationship with law enforcement agencies but no written memoranda of understanding in place.

(ii) Encourages accurate and prompt reporting of all crimes to Public Safety and appropriate police agencies

Prompt Reporting

The Department of Public Safety strongly encourages victims and witnesses to report crime promptly to both Public Safety and local police departments. Also, Public Safety officers provide encouragement, and assistance in reporting incidents to the police if the victim elects to, or unable to make such a report.

(iii) Describes procedures, if any, that encourage pastoral counselors and professional counselors, if and when they deem it appropriate, to inform the persons they are counseling of any procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the annual disclosure of crime statistics

Pastoral and Professional Counselors

All employees and students of the university, including pastoral and professional counselors, are strongly encouraged to report crimes and encourage victims or witnesses of crime to voluntarily report these offenses to Public Safety. Pastoral and professional counselors are trained in how to report crimes to Public Safety and are provided confidential reporting forms. The reporting person may request to remain confidential.

(5) Description of the type and frequency of programs designed to inform students and employees about campus security procedures and practices and to encourage students and employees to be responsible for their own security and that of others

Crime Prevention Programs and Practices

Campus Safety is everyone's responsibility. In addition to investigating and reporting crimes that occur on campus, the Department of Public Safety is dedicated to aiding in the prevention of crime and in maintaining a safe campus environment.

Responsibilities of the St. Thomas Community for Their Own Personal Safety

Members of the University of St. Thomas community must assume responsibility for their own personal safety and the security of their personal property. The following precautions provide guidance.

- Report all suspicious activity to Public Safety immediately.
- Never take personal safety for granted.
- Try to avoid walking alone at night. Use the Public Safety escort service.
- Limit your alcohol consumption, and leave social functions that get too loud, too crowded, or that have too many people drinking excessively. Remember to call Public Safety or local police agency for help at the first sign of trouble.
- Carry only small amounts of cash.

- Never leave valuables (wallets, purses, books, phones, etc.) unattended.
- Carry your keys at all times and do not lend them to anyone.
- Lock up bicycles and motorcycles. Lock car doors and close windows when leaving your car.
- Always lock the door to your residence hall room, whether or not you are there. Be certain that your door is locked when you go to sleep, and keep windows closed and locked when you are not at home. DO NOT PROP INTERIOR OR EXTERIOR DOORS.
- Do not leave valuables in your car, especially if they can be easily noticed.
- Engrave serial numbers or owner's recognized numbers, such as a driver's license number, on items of value.
- Inventory your personal property and insure it appropriately with personal insurance coverage.

The Bernardi Campus Director and Inspector ensure that students, faculty, staff and guests have followed visitor registration requirements and have been given appropriate crime prevention information. Additionally, should issues with war, terrorism or homeland security become a concern, the director and inspector will provide relevant information and current updates.

Students are provided two opportunities to receive critical information: during orientation on the main campus and on-site at the Bernardi Campus during their first few days in Rome. As part of this orientation, students receive several documents and a wallet-sized card that include emergency and other important telephone numbers. Students are advised to alert the Bernardi Campus director or facilities manager of any suspicious persons or activities in and around campus.

For emergencies while traveling outside Rome, the Cultural Insurance Services International (CISI) insurance ID card has a 24-hour assistance number that you can call collect from any country. Carry your CISI card at all times. The U.S. Department of State may issue public announcements concerning potential terrorist threats to Americans overseas. These announcements, along with instructions from the school, will be posted on the main bulletin board.

Department of State travel information is available at:

<https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/traveladvisories/traveladvisories/italy-travel-advisory.html>

In the event of a catastrophic event, call the following numbers to check-in, and for instructions:

- 1) Residence: 06-326-00548
- 2) Director's cell: 333-464-0946
- 3) Facilities Manager's cell: 338-275-4206

If there is no answer at the first number, call the second, etc. If you are calling from outside Italy, dial the 00-39 prefix.

Rome and Travel Precautions:

Because of international terrorism, U.S. citizens overseas are advised to be alert and vigilant. When possible, avoid places where Americans are known to congregate. At the Bernardi Campus, make sure you keep the front gate closed, report suspicious people to the staff, and avoid talking to strangers about the school.

While violent crime is rare in Italy, you should always take normal precautions.

Petty theft can be a problem:

- Be on the alert for pickpockets, and carry only a small amount of cash and as little else as you need.
- Pay attention to children who hang around sites popular with tourists. They may be adept pickpockets.
- Keep valuables in your front pockets, hold bags in front of you on buses, or use a security pouch.

Purses and cameras can be snatched from you by people in moving vehicles - carry valuables on the building side of the street.

Don't carry your passport except when traveling (carry a photocopy of your passport and original Permesso di Soggiorno).

- Make copies of all your documents and keep in a safe place.
- Don't leave valuables out at school or on campus.
- Lock sleeping compartment doors on trains.
- Walk away from trouble and keep a low profile.
- Don't go out at night unaccompanied, go out in a group.
- Never give out your Bernardi campus address to people you do not know well.
- Be aware of your surroundings.
- Report suspicious activity or unknown individuals hanging out outside the residence.

Normal Everyday Security:

1. The number one rule is to have confidence! It is recommended that one should act like they belong in Rome. Students live there for a period of time, so they should not be mistaken for a tourist. It is recommended that students ask questions if they are lost, but not stand on a street corner with their map out and a confused look on their face. Projecting confidence, being comfortable, keeping one's shoulders back, and dressing up to the occasion or the area will go a long way to helping the student fit right in.

2. Students should know the phrases that will help one get around. They should ask directions of merchants, waiters, policemen, bus drivers and so on. If someone offers advice, students should thank them but do not accept an offer to be led to their destination.

3. It is safer to travel in groups. It is especially important for students to stick together after dark. However, in Rome, it is okay to travel alone during the day if one knows the area. One always should know their route!

4. Rome is not St. Paul! Again, knowing where one is going is recommended. One should not leave things unattended. One should not be obvious with money, cameras, expensive iPods, etc. One should not use ATMs in lonely and poorly lighted areas after dark. The main places where people can be robbed are in metro stations, crowded streets, and open markets. Muggings are very, very rare, but again, pick-pocketing and purse-lifting have been honed to a fine art and can be commonplace. So, one should keep track of purses and wallets. One should never leave them on a café table or bench, and should always hang on to them securely while on public transport. A pouch worn beneath a blouse or shirt is recommended, especially when traveling at night. It should be used for extra money, traveler's checks, passport, and Visa card.

5. When traveling it is recommended that one:

- Not go into a train compartment alone.
- Sleep in public only with money, passport, etc. in inside pockets.
- Use locks on suitcases, purses whenever possible.
- Protect valuables in the hotel as well.

6. Safe places to meet friends are restaurants, pubs and other public places (during peak hours).

One should never appear drunk in public. Pickpockets and pick-up artists will take an intoxicated person as easy prey. One should always stay sharp.

The following is a list of programs and projects available to faculty, staff, and students at the University of St. Thomas:

Student Orientation Program

Public Safety provides information on campus safety policies, procedures, and crime prevention on an annual basis during and at every new student orientation.

Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment Training

Employee orientation programs and online training programs offered to new staff and faculty and orientation programs for undergraduate students and online training for all students include sexual violence and sexual harassment awareness training in order to increase awareness and response. Current employees may also be required to take a refresher or updated courses.

Public Safety Seminars

Public Safety staff is also available on request to conduct site security surveys and seminars on a variety of topics including personal safety, self-defense, first-aid and CPR, and theft prevention. Materials containing tips for personal safety and crime prevention are available at the St. Paul and Minneapolis campus Public Safety offices.

(6) A description of programs designed to inform students and employees about the prevention of crimes

Crime prevention is a top priority for Public Safety. The previous section outlines many of the programs used to inform the university community about crime prevention. The new student and new employee orientations, Campus Crime Prevention Month, Public Safety seminars, and the use of Public Safety Bulletins, Advisories and Alerts are all tools to advise the community of crime prevention measures. Additionally, Public Safety participates in the Minnesota Crime Prevention Association to stay updated and trained in crime prevention education and to share applicable information with the St. Thomas community.

Public Safety also promotes crime prevention through periodic use of a variety of novelty items, including posters, key chains, and bookmarks. These items include emergency telephone numbers and are distributed in conjunction with regularly scheduled programs and services.

Public Safety performs site security surveys, or security audits, for employees, students, and departments upon request. Security audits include recommendations, instruction and trouble-shooting services for access control, surveillance systems, and alarm systems.

The Public Safety Investigations Division maintains a strong working relationship with university public relations and TommieMedia. Close contact with these news agencies provides another avenue for the dissemination of accurate information regarding significant or recurring incidents and provides tips to prevent similar crimes.

A weekly incident summary publication and crime log are also available for online viewing at <http://www.stthomas.edu/publicsafety/reports/campuscrimefirelog/>. This log includes a brief description of campus crimes and incidents as reported to, or by, Public Safety.

Public Safety Special Projects Manager does a comprehensive review of safety issues in the planning of events on campus. It works with campus event planners in assessing safety needs and the use of public safety services. Additionally, there are post-event action reports that are done after events or major incidents to better learn how safety may be improved.

(7) A statement of policy concerning the monitoring and recording through local police agencies of criminal activity in which students engaged at off-campus locations of student organizations officially recognized by the University of St. Thomas, including student organizations with off-campus housing facilities.

The University of St. Thomas does not officially recognize or sanction student organizations that have off-campus locations or housing facilities.

The Bernardi Campus Director has a close working relationship with local police agencies. If there is any concern they will make him aware of the situation when they deem necessary.

Public Safety makes a request for any reports that occurred in our Clery geography.

(8) A statement of policy regarding possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages and enforcement of State underage drinking laws, and

These policies are maintained by the Dean of Students Office and reviewed every two years. See Attachment E for policy document.

(9) A statement of policy regarding the possession, use, and sale of illegal drugs and enforcement of Federal and State drug laws.

These policies are maintained by the Dean of Students Office and reviewed every two years. See Attachment E for policy document.

(10) A description of any drug or alcohol-abuse education programs, as required under section 120(a) through (d) of the HEA.

These policies are maintained by the Dean of Students Office and reviewed every two years. See Attachment E for policy document.

(11) A statement of policy regarding St. Thomas' campus programs to prevent domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking and procedures to follow when an incident of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking has been reported, including a statement of the standard of evidence that will be used during any institutional conduct proceeding arising from such report.

Sexual Misconduct Policies and Procedures

Rome Campus Director and need to know administrators on the St. Paul campus will work together to decide what course of action will take place with any student conduct issues or concerns. All conduct review or hearings will take place back on the St. Paul and Minneapolis campuses. All conduct related issues will go through the regular conduct process.

The University of St. Thomas is committed to maintaining high standards of respect and civility that are both implicit and explicit in its convictions statement. This commitment extends to creating and maintaining a learning environment that is free of sexual misconduct and that promotes personal dignity and fair treatment of all members of the University community.

Sexual misconduct, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, is a serious breach of that commitment and compromises the integrity of human relationships and threatens the security and well-being of all individuals. Not only is sexual misconduct unlawful but it also undermines the atmosphere of trust and respect that is essential to creating a healthy working and learning environment. Sexual misconduct interferes with a student's right to an education free from sex discrimination and is a violation of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. In recognition of this, the University has adopted a Sexual Misconduct Policy that is designed to investigate and resolve such claims in an equitable and impartial way while respecting the rights of all parties involved.

This statement of policy is intended to inform the community of our comprehensive plan to address sexual misconduct, the available educational programs, and the relevant procedures that address sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence and stalking.

A. Important Definitions

1. Clery Act Definitions of Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking

The University of St. Thomas prohibits dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking as those terms are defined by the Clery Act and as those terms are defined in the University's Sexual Misconduct policy. The Clery Act defines those terms as follows:

Dating Violence is defined as violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the reporting party's statement and with consideration of the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. For the purposes of this definition

- dating violence includes, but is not limited to, sexual or physical abuse or the threat of such abuse.
- dating violence does not include acts covered under the definition of domestic violence.

Domestic Violence is defined as a felony or misdemeanor crime of violence committed

- by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim.
- by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common.
- by a person who is cohabitating with, or has cohabitated with, the victim as a spouse or intimate partner.
- by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred;
- by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction in which the crime of violence occurred.

Stalking is defined as engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to

- fear for the person's safety or the safety of others; or
- suffer substantial emotional distress.

Sexual Assault is defined as an offense that meets the definition of Rape, Fondling, Incest or Statutory Rape as used in the FBI's UCR program and included in Appendix A of 34 CFR Part 668. According to the National Incident-Based Reporting System User Manual from the FBI UCR program, a sex offense is "any sexual act directed against another person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent."

- Rape is defined as the penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.
- Fondling is defined as the touching of the private parts of another person for the purposes of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of their age or because of their temporary or permanent mental incapacity.

- Incest is defined as nonforcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
- Statutory Rape is defined a nonforcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

2. Definitions of Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, Sexual Assault and Stalking under Minnesota Law:

In addition to being prohibited by St. Thomas policy, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking are prohibited by Minnesota law.

Domestic Violence: The state of Minnesota does not define the term “domestic violence” but does define the similar term of “domestic abuse.” See Minn. Stat. § 518B.01. Under Minnesota law, domestic abuse means the following, if committed against a family or household member by a family or household member:

- physical harm, bodily injury, or assault
- the infliction of fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, or assault
- terroristic threats, within the meaning of section 609.713, subdivision 1; or criminal sexual conduct, within the meaning of sections 609.342, 609.343, 609.344, 609.345, or 609.3451; or interference with an emergency call within the meaning of section 609.78, subdivision 2

A “family or household member” means the following:

- spouses and former spouses;
- parents and children;
- persons related by blood;
- persons who are presently residing together or who have resided together in the past;
- persons who have a child in common regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time;
- a man and woman if the woman is pregnant and the man is alleged to be the father, regardless of whether they have been married or have lived together at any time; and
- persons involved in a significant romantic or sexual relationship

Dating Violence: The state of Minnesota includes dating violence in the domestic abuse definition above. See Minn. Stat. § 518B.01.

Sexual Assault: The state of Minnesota does not define the term sexual assault in its statutes; however acts of sexual assault are included in Minnesota’s criminal sexual conduct statutes. Under Minnesota law, criminal sexual conduct falls into five categories: first through fifth-degree criminal sexual conduct. First-degree criminal sexual conduct carries the most severe penalties and fifth-degree the least. See Minn. Stat. §§ 609.341 to 609.3451. Generally speaking, the first-degree and third-degree crimes apply to sexual conduct involving sexual penetration of the victim; the second-, fourth-, and fifth-degree crimes apply to sexual conduct involving sexual contact with the victim without sexual penetration.

Stalking: The state of Minnesota defines stalking as follows: conduct which the actor knows or has reason to know would cause the victim under the circumstances to feel frightened, threatened, oppressed, persecuted, or intimidated, and causes this reaction on the part of the victim regardless of the relationship between the actor and victim. See Minn. Stat. § 609.749.

Definitions under Italian Law

Acts of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking not only violate St. Thomas policy, but can be crimes as well. Information about the definitions of these terms under Italian law is included below.

1. Sexual assault

Under Italian law, the definitions of sexual assault and rape overlap. Italian law regards all forms of sexual assault, including date rape, spousal rape, and rape of males, as serious violent crimes.

Rape/sexual assault is defined as the act of forcing someone to perform or experience sexual acts by using violence, under threat of injury, or by abusing her/his authority.

2. Dating violence

To the University's knowledge, here is no specific definition of "dating violence" under Italian law.

3. Domestic violence

Domestic Violence is not specifically addressed in Italian law. Instead, it is considered an aggravating factor in general crimes of violence, such as assault.

4. Stalking

Italian law prohibits continuative harassing, threatening or persecuting behavior which: (1) causes a state of anxiety and fear in the victim(s), or; (2) ingenerates within the victim(s) a motivated fear for his/her own safety or for the safety of relatives, kin, or others tied to the victim him/herself by an affective relationship, or; (3), forces the victim(s) to change his/her living habits.

3. Definition of Consent Under Minnesota Law and St. Thomas Policy.

a. Minnesota's criminal sexual conduct laws define consent as follows:

"Consent" means words or overt actions by a person indicating a freely given present agreement to perform a particular sexual act with the actor. Consent does not mean the existence of a prior or current social relationship between the actor and the complainant or that the complainant failed to resist a particular sexual act. A person who is mentally incapacitated or physically helpless as defined by this section cannot consent to a sexual act. Corroboration of the victim's testimony is not required to show lack of consent.

See Minn. Stat. § 609.341.

b. St. Thomas defines consent as follows:

Consent is clear conduct or words that indicate a person freely agrees to engage in a sexual act at the time of the act, subject to the following:

- In order to give consent, one must be of legal age.
- Consent must be knowing and voluntary.
- Silence or failing to resist a sexual act does not constitute consent. Lack of a negative response does not constitute consent. Consent is a freely given “yes” (through words or conduct), not the absence of “no.”
- A current or previous relationship does not imply consent to a sexual act.
- A person who is asleep or unconscious cannot consent to a sexual act.
- Consent may not be obtained through threats or coercion.
- Consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. A person who would like to initiate a new form of sexual activity is responsible for obtaining consent for that form of sexual activity.
- Consent, once given, may be withdrawn at any time. Withdrawal of consent must be clearly communicated through words or conduct. When consent is withdrawn, the sexual activity must stop.
- Consent is not effective if a person knows, or reasonably should know, that the other person is incapacitated, regardless of the reason for incapacitation. [See definition of Incapacitation].

Although consent does not need to be verbal, verbal communication is the most reliable way to ask for and determine whether consent has been given. The University’s definition of consent is an affirmative consent standard.

B. Educational programs and campaigns to promote the awareness of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, including primary prevention and awareness programs for all incoming students and new employees and ongoing prevention and awareness campaigns.

The University educates the University community about domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking through a variety of prevention and awareness programs. The University recognizes that no single event, training or policy will eliminate sexual violence, dating violence or other forms of sexual misconduct from our community. We work to take a multitude of prevention and awareness strategies. Following a public health approach, outlined in the Catholic Health Initiatives Violence Prevention Resource Guide we focus on creating a comprehensive approach to violence prevention. A few examples of our efforts include;

1. In 2015 all University of St. Thomas students were required to complete an online sexual misconduct awareness and prevention training. This requirement has continued annually for all incoming students.
2. In 2018, all employees were required to complete an online sexual misconduct awareness and prevention training. That requirement includes refresher online training every two years.
3. Our Sexual Misconduct Policy and Procedures outlines clearly our commitment to promoting and protecting the personal dignity and well-being of every member of our community. The policy and procedures also ensure we respond to reported incidents of sexual misconduct in a prompt, fair and equitable manner.
4. Throughout the school year we utilize the digital screens across campus with messages about healthy relationships, decision-making and communication.

5. The University of St. Thomas is an active participating member of the Ramsey County Sexual Assault Protocol Team \(SAPT\). Our participation on this team helps ensure our response to sexual misconduct is based in best practice and collaborative with the community response.
6. We implement bystander intervention training in a variety of formats across campus. This information helps student recognize high risk situations that could lead to violence and offers safe ways to intervene; making it less likely a person will be hurt. Bystander Intervention workshops are integrated into student leader trainings, including residence life student leaders, peer ministers, orientation leaders and welcome day leaders. Bystander Intervention workshops open to the entire student population are offered throughout the academic year.
7. University student athletes are provided with sexual misconduct training, including matters of prevention and awareness, on an annual basis, in accordance with NCAA requirements.

The University also addresses sexual misconduct prevention and response at new student orientation for undergraduates, during welcome weekend (first weekend) activities, and in the undergraduate First Year Experience Course, and through new faculty and staff orientation. Education and awareness programs are also offered to new graduate students through schools and colleges.

The University's prevention and awareness programs available to new and continuing students and employees also include: Healthy Relationships Month (October), Sexual Assault Awareness Month (April) including the Clothesline Project and Take Back the Night (offered through the Luann Drummer Center for Women), Start by Believing Campaign (a collaboration with the Undergraduate Student Government), Breaking Ice Theater (offered during welcome weekend activities); educational and awareness programs (art exhibits, panel discussion, workshops, social media campaigns) available to all members of the campus community; regular training for faculty and staff involved in student life and student activities; classroom discussions led by faculty when relevant to course subject; easy on-line access to the University's Sexual Misconduct Policy and resolution procedures; on-line information about what to do if you are a victim or if a friend is a victim of sexual assault; on-line and other promotional information about the escort service available from the University's Public Safety department; on-line and other promotional information about consent and healthy relationships, periodic programs for students living in residence halls; and literature and resources on sexual violence and relationship violence available on the Dean of Students website and in restrooms on campus. The University promotes violence prevention, bystander intervention, and risk reduction. The University's Luann Drummer Center for Women and Center for Well-Being supports student leaders in a variety of student-led initiatives intended to raise awareness of issues related to sexual assault, relationship violence, and stalking.

The University's education, prevention and awareness programs cover:

- The University's prohibition of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking (as those terms are defined by Clery) and other forms of sexual misconduct and other information about the University's Sexual Misconduct Policy;
- Definitions of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking;
- The definition of consent, under the University's Sexual Misconduct Policy and Minnesota law;
- Safe and positive options for bystander intervention that may be carried out by an individual to prevent harm or intervene when there is risk of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, including information on recognizing situations of potential harm, understanding institutional structures and cultural conditions that facilitate violence, overcoming barriers to intervening, identifying safe and effective intervention options (such as distraction or calling for help), and taking action to intervene;

- Information on risk reduction to recognize signs of abusive behavior, decrease perpetration and bystander inaction, increase empowerment for victims in order to promote safety, and help individuals and communities address conditions that facilitate violence;
- Examples of healthy relationships and communication;

C. Procedures victims should follow if a sex offense, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking has occurred.

1. What to do following an assault or incident of domestic violence, dating violence or stalking

As soon as possible after an assault, an attempted assault, a perceived assault, or other violent act or incident of stalking, victims should talk to someone who they trust. That someone may be a friend, a counselor, the Title IX Coordinator or other professional staff person at the university, a university Public Safety officer or a police officer. The university recognizes that with incidents of sexual violence it can take weeks, months or even years before victims realize that an assault did indeed take place. Nevertheless, the university encourages victims of sexual violence to:

- Report the incident to the Department of Public Safety and/or the police as soon as possible;
- Seek support from appropriate medical resources;
- Utilize on-campus and/or off-campus counseling resources;

Contact the Title IX Coordinator or other University Official with Authority to report the incident. Information and free, confidential assistance is also available 24 hours a day from SOS in St. Paul at (651) 643-3006.

If victims do not wish to pursue an official course of action or are unsure what action to take, victims may contact the University of St. Thomas Counseling and Psychological Services department at (651) 962-6780. Counseling and Psychological Services staff psychologists are legally bound to maintain confidentiality and will not report or officially pursue an incident without consent of the victim.

2. How and to whom the alleged offense should be reported

The University encourages victims of sexual violence to contact Public Safety and the police as soon as possible so that the authorities can take whatever action is necessary to preserve evidence, pursue the assailant or take other appropriate steps. Making a police report involves talking to an officer about the incident and providing other requested cooperation. St. Thomas Public Safety will help facilitate the making of a police report at the request of a student or employee, including calling the police and asking an officer to come to campus.

To report a crime or request assistance, contact the following agency:

Department of Public Safety (St. Thomas will assist you in notifying the appropriate police department as necessary)

Reports may also be made to the University by contacting an Official with Authority, which includes the Title IX Coordinator, members of the Dean of Students office, Human Resources Partners and Public Safety supervisors and officers, as well as additional individuals identified on page 5 of the Sexual Misconduct Policy. For contact information, see On-Campus Places to Report Sexual Violence.

Contacting Public Safety and law enforcement immediately can help ensure the preservation of evidence. Preserving evidence of sexual assault, relationship violence, and stalking is critical if a victim wants to seek criminal prosecution or a harassment restraining order. Detailed advice on preserving evidence can be found at What to do if you have been sexually assaulted and is also included below.

3. The importance of preserving evidence as may be necessary to the proof of a criminal domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking or in obtaining a protection order;

Contacting Public Safety and law enforcement immediately can help ensure the preservation of evidence. Preserving evidence of sexual assault, relationship violence, and stalking is critical if a victim wants to seek criminal prosecution or a harassment restraining order. Detailed advice on preserving evidence can be found on the Title IX website and is also outlined below.

Preserving evidence of sexual assault:

It is strongly recommended that all victims of sexual assault or violence seek medical attention within hours of the crime. A forensic medical exam by a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (SANE nurse) or another medical professional allows evidence to be preserved. Such an exam is recommended even if survivor has not yet decided whether to make a report to the police or the University. Until a report is filed or an exam conducted:

- Do not shower
- Do not douche
- Do not change or wash clothes; if you do change clothes, don't wash them. Put them in a paper bag.
- Do not comb hair
- Leave the scene untouched
- Do not disturb evidence

Preserving evidence of stalking

To preserve evidence, individuals who suspect that they are being stalked should:

- Keep an up-to-date, precise, and detailed journal or "log" of every encounter with the stalker. Include the date, time, location, form of contact or interaction, and any witnesses.
- Keep all text messages, electronic messages, and/or handwritten notes.
- Keep all messages you received or sent through any and all social medias; if electronic messages, videos, or photos cannot be stored, or are destroyed after viewing, ask a friend to take a video or picture on their phone or take a screen shot.
- Do not delete your phone's call log.
- Contact university or law enforcement authorities for assistance.

Preserving evidence of domestic violence and dating violence

To preserve evidence, individuals who are victims of relationship violence should:

- Seek medical attention for injuries. A medical provider can assist in preserving evidence, such as documenting and photographing injuries, and can provide advice on maintaining your safety. For cases of sexual assault, an exam by a sexual assault nurse examiner (SANE) may help preserve evidence. A SANE exam is available even in cases where an individual is not sure they want to report to police. To preserve the most evidence, a SANE exam should take place as soon as possible after an assault. Many hospitals require that a SANE exam be conducted within 3-5 days of the assault. In Ramsey County, a SANE exam is available up to 10 days after an assault.
- Keep any computer, internet/ email, text messages, social media and other forms of electronic evidence (voicemails, answering machine tapes, emergency number police tapes).
- Keep a list of any witnesses who can provide information about any incidents of relationship violence.
- If reporting an incident, do not clean up or alter the location in which an act of violence occurred; broken household items should not be moved.
- Maintain records of any past incidents of relationship violence, including statements from service providers involved in past incidents of violence, prior police incident reports, prior medical files detailing any past injuries, previous court orders such as protective orders or bail restrictions, and any past criminal record/history of the offenders or suspects. Ensure that these records are in a place where they won't be found or can't be read by the offender.

4. Options regarding law enforcement and campus authorities

Victims have the right to notify law enforcement authorities about an incident of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking and to be assisted by campus authorities in notifying law enforcement if the victim chooses to make a report. The University will comply with a student's request for assistance in notifying law enforcement authorities. Victims also have the right to decline to notify authorities.

On request, Department of Public Safety will assist law enforcement officials in a timely fashion in obtaining, securing and maintaining evidence in connection with an incident of sexual violence.

Victims are always encouraged to report incidents to the Title IX Coordinator to learn more about available supportive measures and process options that may be available.

5. Existing on- and off-campus counseling, mental health, or other student services for victims of sex offenses

The University provides written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance and other services available for victims, both within the institution and in the community. 6. Orders of protection, no contact orders, restraining orders, or similar lawful orders issued by a court or St. Thomas.

Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking may seek a harassment restraining order or order for protection from a state court. The University of St. Thomas will comply with any lawfully issued harassment restraining order or order for protection. If you have obtained an order for protection or harassment restraining order against another member of the community, please contact the Title IX Coordinator, Dean of Students, Human Resources, or Public Safety to inform the University of the order and to ensure that the University is able to take appropriate steps with respect to the order. In addition, the University seeks to support students and employees who may need to obtain an order for protection or harassment restraining order. Employees may take reasonable time off work to seek a harassment restraining order or order for protection and the University prohibits retaliation against an employee who seeks such an order. Students who need to seek a harassment restraining order should contact the Title IX Coordinator if they need class accommodations. Information about obtaining harassment restraining orders and orders for protection is available from both Ramsey and Hennepin Counties. In Ramsey County, call the Domestic Abuse and Harassment Office at 651-266-5130. The requirements for obtaining a harassment restraining order are available on the Minnesota Court website here. Instructions for obtaining an order for protection are available on the Minnesota Court website here. Minnesota recommends that parties seeking an order for protection contact an advocacy service, like Minnesota Coalition for Battered Women, for assistance in seeking an order for protection.

The University has the ability, in appropriate circumstances, to issue no-contact directives to community members and to issue notices limiting campus access by community members or members of the public. Community members should contact the Title IX Coordinator or UST Public Safety (651-962-5100) to request this type of protection. The University is a private entity and does not issue orders for protection.

D. Procedures for institutional disciplinary action in cases of alleged domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking.

1. Response and Resolution Procedures Generally

The University follows its Sexual Misconduct Response and Resolution Procedures in cases involving domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, stalking, and other forms of sexual misconduct. Copies of these procedures are available on the Title IX website: <http://www.stthomas.edu/title-ix/sexualmisconduct/>. A copy of these procedures is also attached as an attachment to this report. These procedures describe in detail the steps, timelines, and decision-making process followed as part of processing a formal complaint. An alternative resolution process is also available for resolving allegations. When a student or employee reports sexual misconduct to the University, they are provided written information about their rights and options to pursue a complaint through the University's processes.

The University's response and resolution procedures are designed to provide for a prompt, fair, and impartial investigation and resolution of sexual misconduct complaints and concerns. A preponderance of the evidence ("more likely than not") standard is used. Both the reporting party and the responding party are provided written information about available support resources, on and off-campus, and such resources are also available on the University's Title IX website.

2. Supportive Measures Available

The Response Manager, in consultation with appropriate administrators and informed by the wishes of the Reporting Party, will consider whether and which supportive measures are reasonably necessary or appropriate to restore or preserve equal access without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties and the broader St. Thomas community, or deter sexual harassment. If the Response Manager and appropriate administrators determine that certain supportive measures are reasonably necessary and appropriate, they are authorized to take or direct such action.

Examples of supportive measures include, without limitation:

- Offering counseling services;
- Allowing for deadline extensions or other course-related adjustments;
- Establishing a mutual "no contact" directive prohibiting the Responding Party and Reporting Party from communicating with each other.
- Prohibiting a Responding Party from physically entering or being on St. Thomas property.
- Prohibiting a Responding Party from participating in St. Thomas-sponsored events.

- Changing a Reporting Party's or Responding Party's on-campus residence or prohibiting a Responding Party from residing in a St. Thomas residence.
- Changing a Reporting Party's or Responding Party's student or employee status, in consultation with appropriate administrator(s).
- Changing a Reporting Party's or Responding Party's work or class schedule, in consultation with appropriate administrator(s).
- Issuing a timely warning of any reported incident that presents a serious or continuing threat or danger to the community.
- Providing information about orders for protection and harassment restraining orders in appropriate cases.
- Notifying and consulting with appropriate St. Thomas administrators, faculty and staff members as warranted under the circumstances.

Supportive measures will be determined on a case-by-case basis, and may also include community-based measures, such as increased security or monitoring of certain areas of campus or training provided to particular community groups. Either party is free to raise concerns regarding supportive measures with the Response Manager. The Response Manager may modify or initiate new or different supportive measures at any point during the response and resolution process based on the Response Manager's determination of how best to protect the parties and the broader St. Thomas community.

If the Response Manager is not immediately available and the Title IX Coordinator, Dean of Students, or Chief Human Resources Officer determines that immediate action is reasonably necessary and appropriate, the Title IX Coordinator, Dean of Students and/or Chief Human Resources Officer is authorized to take or direct such action.

3. Equitable Rights and Opportunities for the Parties

In the Formal Process, the responsibility lies with St. Thomas to gather evidence sufficient to reach a determination regarding responsibility based on the preponderance of evidence standard. Additionally, the Complainant and Respondent can expect the following:

- equitable procedures that provide both parties with a prompt and impartial investigation and resolution conducted by individuals who receive annual training on conduct prohibited by the policy;
- an equitable opportunity to identify relevant witnesses and other evidence and to suggest possible questions to be asked of witnesses during the investigation, and to present such witnesses and evidence during a live hearing, if any;
- an opportunity to meet with the Investigator(s) and present information on their own behalf, including written and oral statements and physical exhibits;
- an opportunity to receive similar and timely access to inspect and review any evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in the complaint, including evidence upon which St. Thomas does not intend to rely in reaching a determination regarding responsibility, and inculpatory or exculpatory evidence whether obtained from a party or other source, so that each party can meaningfully respond to the evidence prior to conclusion of the investigation;
- timely written notice of meetings and hearings, including the date, time, location, participants, and purpose;

- the opportunity to have an advisor of the individual's choice, accompany the individual to meetings and proceedings that are part of the response and resolution process. See Part V.C for additional information;
- the opportunity to determine when and whether to provide or repeat a description of an incident of reported sexual misconduct, and to be informed of the consequences, if any, of not providing or repeating such a description. A decision not to provide or repeat a description of an incident involving reported sexual misconduct may impact the outcome of the investigation or hearing because the recommendation or determination regarding responsibility made by the Investigator(s) and the determination regarding responsibility by an appointed hearing panel in matters involving a live hearing will be based on a Preponderance of the Evidence.
- The provision of remedies to a Complainant/Reporting Party where a determination of responsibility for sexual harassment has been made against Respondent/Responding Party.

4. Notice of Outcome

Following the conclusion of a formal process, the Response Manager will provide a written notice of outcome, by letter or email, to the Complainant and to the Respondent. The notice also will include information about the appeal process and when the outcome will be final. In matters that involved a hearing, the notice of outcome will include a copy of the hearing panel's determination of responsibility. In matters resolved without a hearing that involved sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking and in matters involving reports of sexual harassment in which a faculty member is a party and has asserted a defense of academic freedom, the notice of outcome will include information about the opportunity to review the final fact finding report. Any such review of the final fact finding report will be conducted a manner consistent with any applicable St. Thomas practices regarding confidentiality and privacy, including the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, if applicable and consistent with practices outlined above regarding review of the preliminary report. The written notifications must be sent within ten (10) working days of the Response Manager's receipt of the final fact finding report and will be sent to the Complainant and the Respondent at the same time.

St. Thomas may be limited in the information it may share with the Complainant as part of or otherwise in connection with this notice of outcome. At a minimum, the outcome letter sent to the Complainant will contain the following information: the determination regarding responsibility, information about the rationale, and, if the Respondent was determined responsible for a policy violation, any sanctions imposed that directly relate to the Complainant. In sexual misconduct incidents involving allegations of Title IX-based or non-Title IX-based sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence or stalking, the notice of outcome also will contain additional information about sanctions against a Respondent who was determined responsible for a policy violation.

The Response Manager also will ensure that appropriate St. Thomas administrators, faculty and/or staff members who have a need to know information about the outcome have been or are provided with such information. This may include the member(s) of the President's Cabinet responsible for a Respondent's school, college or unit, and in the circumstance of Respondents who are employees, the Respondent's supervisor.

If there is any change to the outcome following delivery of the original notice of outcome, including a change as a result of a typing error, the Complainant and Respondent will be provided notice of the change at the same time.

5. Possible sanctions or protective measures that the University may impose following the final determination of an institutional disciplinary procedure

Students, employees, and third parties who are found to have engaged in sexual misconduct, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking, will be subject to disciplinary action.

St. Thomas may impose different sanctions depending on the particular violation, facts and circumstances, including but not limited to the severity of the offense, any previous conduct violations or disciplinary action, and whether the Respondent poses a threat to the health or safety of member(s) of the St. Thomas community. The imposition of sanctions is designed to address sexual misconduct, prevent its recurrence and remedy its effects, while supporting and advancing the University's mission and convictions.. The sanctions that may be issued in cases involving sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and/or stalking¹ include but are not limited to the following:

Student Responding Party

- Written warning;
- No-contact order;
- Disciplinary probation;
- Requirement that Respondent attend educational sessions or programs;
- Requirement that Respondent participate in drug and/or alcohol treatment;
- Requirement to participate in psychological assessment;
- Behavioral contract;
- Removal from University housing;
- Removal from specific course(s) or activities;
- Restriction on campus privileges and access;
- Continuing any interim measures in place;
- Suspension of one or more semesters, with reinstatement conditions that may include meeting with the Dean of Students; and/or
- Expulsion.

Faculty/Staff Responding Party

- Written warning;

¹ The same range of sanctions is considered for each of these offenses, depending on the particular facts and circumstances and the severity of the offense. A written warning will rarely be used, alone, as a sanction, but may be used in combination with other sanctions.

- Requirement to attend educational sessions or programs;
- Requirement to participate in drug and/or alcohol treatment;
- Behavioral contract;
- Disciplinary letter;
- Unpaid suspension;
- Loss of faculty or staff privilege(s);
- Demotion (staff);
- Notice of contract non-renewal (contracted staff and faculty without tenured appointment);
- Termination (staff; faculty without an annual contract); and/or
- Recommendation to President to institute dismissal for cause proceedings (faculty with an annual contract or tenured appointment).

The sanctions may include one or a combination of the actions described above. Sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking are very serious offenses. While the sanction issued will depend on the particular facts and circumstances, sanctions are often on the more severe end of the range listed above.

6. Appeal

Both the Complainant and the Respondent are entitled to appeal the results of the Formal Process if on one or more of the following bases:

- a. a procedural irregularity occurred that affected the outcome of the process, including but not limited to that the decision was not supported by a preponderance of the evidence or was arbitrary and capricious;
- b. the decision violated academic freedom;
- c. there has been discovery of new evidence by the appealing party that was not reasonably available at the time of the determination regarding responsibility that could affect the outcome of the matter;
- d. The Title IX Coordinator, Investigator(s), or hearing panel had a general or specific conflict of interest or bias against the Complainant or Respondent that affected the outcome.

7. Training for Campus Officials who Conduct Response and Resolution Process

The response and resolution procedures are conducted by officials who receive training on issues related to domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking and training on how to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of the victims and promotes accountability. Such training is provided annually, or more frequently, and an official must receive training prior to his or her involvement in the response and resolution procedure. Training topics include:

Information on identifying and analyzing relevant evidence; effective techniques for questioning witnesses, including trauma-informed techniques, procedural rules for conducting investigations, including the standard of review and providing equitable opportunities to the parties; writing investigative reports, and understanding law enforcement investigations in sexual assault and domestic and dating violence situations.

8. Opportunity to Be Accompanied by a Support Person of Choice

As part of the University's response and resolution procedures, the reporting party and the responding party are entitled to the same opportunities to be accompanied by a support person of their choice to any meeting or other institutional disciplinary proceeding. The support person may advise and consult with the party they are accompanying, but is not otherwise permitted to participate in any proceeding. The support person may not speak for or submit information on behalf of the party they are supporting as part of the response and resolution process. When a party is meeting with the Investigator(s), a party may request reasonable breaks to speak with the party's support person. The University may remove or dismiss a support person who becomes disruptive or who does not abide by restrictions on their participation. Additionally, in formal processes involving a live hearing, parties must have a hearing advisor, whose primary role is to conduct cross-examination on behalf of the party. A hearing advisor can be any person of the party's choosing. If a party does not have a hearing advisor, the University will provide one without charge or fee to conduct cross-examination on the party's behalf.

9. Information about how the institution will protect the confidentiality of victims and other necessary parties, including how publicly available recordkeeping will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permissible by law.

In conducting the response and resolution procedures, the University seeks to protect confidentiality to the extent reasonably possible consistent with a thorough, fair and effective investigation and response and as required by applicable laws and UST policies. In all cases, the officials investigating and responding to incidents or allegations of sexual misconduct will share information about the incident or allegation, investigation and response within and outside UST only on a "need to know" basis. The Title IX Coordinator in consultation with Public Safety, Human Resources and/or Dean of Students as appropriate will assist in determining who has a need to know. The victim's name will not be published by the University in its Clery Act reports or timely warnings. As a private institution subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act, most University records related to students are treated as confidential and are not publicly available. Any publicly-available recordkeeping will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permissible by law.

The University will maintain as confidential any accommodations or supportive measures provided to the victim, to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the institution to provide accommodations or protective measures. Information about accommodations and supportive measures will be shared on a need-to-know basis, as determined by the Title IX Coordinator, Public Safety, Human Resources and/or Dean of Students.

E. Changes to a victim’s academic, living, transportation and working situations or protective measures after an alleged sex offense and of the option for those changes, if those changes are requested by the victim and are reasonably available

If requested by the victim, and if reasonably available, the university is obligated to comply with a student’s reasonable request for a living or academic situation change following an alleged offense of stalking, domestic violence, dating violence or sexual assault if the accommodations are reasonably available. Available options may include transferring the victim to a different residence hall or floor within a residence hall, transferring the respondent to a different residence hall or floor within the residence hall, releasing a victim from a housing contract, requiring a respondent to move off campus, switching the victim’s class section when another section is reasonably available, switching the respondent’s class section when another class section is reasonably available, issuing a mutual no-contact order, and limiting the Respondent’s access to campus. Decisions about appropriate interim and protective measures are made by the Response Manager based on all the facts and circumstances, including the following factors: (1) protection of the parties; (2) protection of the broader community; (3) reasonableness of request; (4) age of student(s) involved; (5) severity or pervasiveness of the allegations; (6) continuing effects on both parties; (7) whether the reporting party and responding party share the same residence hall, dining hall, class, transportation or job location; and (8) whether the requested action is reasonably available. The victim does not need to make a report to law enforcement or initiate the Response and Resolution Process before requesting such changes. These measures are designed to (1) restore or preserve equal access to the University’s education programs or activities without unreasonably burdening the other party, (2) protect the safety of all parties or the University’s educational environment, or (3) deter sexual harassment.

(12) Beginning with the annual security report distributed by October 1, 2003, a statement advising the campus community where law enforcement agency information provided by a State under section 170101(j) of the Violent Crime Control and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 14071(j)), concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained, such as the Public Safety Department, the St. Paul or Minneapolis Police Departments, or a computer network address.

Location of Law Enforcement Agency Information Regarding Registered Sex Offenders

Rome does not maintain a sex offender registry, and information about an individual's past criminal history is not made available to the general public. However, the UST Campus Life office housing contract provides for the cancellation of the housing contract of a known sex offender, or any other known convicted person, who is disruptive to the educational environment of the Bernardi campus.

(13) A statement of policy regarding response and evacuation procedures, as described in paragraph (g) of this section.

The University of St. Thomas has a policy regarding the response and evacuation procedures as described in paragraph (g). See Attachment A for further information.

(14) Beginning with the annual security report distributed by October 1, 2013, a statement of policy regarding missing student notification procedures, as described in paragraph (h) of this section.

The University of St. Thomas has a policy regarding missing student notification procedures as described in paragraph (h). See Attachment B for further information.

(c) Crime Statistics and Clery Act Definitions

(1) Crimes that must be reported

The University of St. Thomas must report statistics for the three most recent calendar years concerning the occurrence on campus, in or on noncampus buildings or property, and on public property of the following that are reported to local police agencies or to a campus security authority.

More detailed information regarding these crimes, including illustrative scenarios and specific crimes excluded from these categories, can be found at the following web link: Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook

(i) Criminal Homicide:

(A) Murder and nonnegligent manslaughter

The willful (nonnegligent) killing of one human being by another.

As a general rule, any death caused by injuries received in a fight, argument, quarrel, assault, or commission of a crime is classified as Murder and Nonnegligent Manslaughter (1a).

(B) Criminal Homicide – Negligent Manslaughter

The killing of another person through gross negligence.

As a general rule, any death caused by the gross negligence of another is classified as Criminal Homicide—Manslaughter by Negligence (1b).

(ii) Sex Offenses:

(A) Sex offenses.

Any sexual act directed against another person, without consent of the victim including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent.

Reported offenses may include:

- Rape - The penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim. This offense includes the rape of both males and females.

Agencies should classify the crime as rape, regardless of the age of the victim, if the victim did not consent or if the victim was incapable of giving consent. If the victim consented, the offender did not force or threaten the victim, and the victim was under the statutory age of consent, agencies should classify the crime as statutory rape.

In cases where several offenders rape one person, the responding agency should count one Rape (for one victim) and report separate offender information for each offender.

- Fondling - The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity.
- Incest - sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
- Statutory Rape - sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

Note: If force was used or threatened, or the victim was incapable of giving consent because of his/her youth or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity; the offense should be classified as rape not statutory rape.

(iii) Robbery

The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim fearful.

Robbery is a vicious type of theft in that it is committed in the presence of the victim. The victim, who usually is the owner or person having custody of the property, is directly confronted by the perpetrator and is threatened with force or is put in fear that force will be used. Robbery involves a theft or larceny but is aggravated by the element of force or threat of force.

(iv) Aggravated Assault

An unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. All incidents concurrently reported by other university departments or divisions will be reviewed by Public Safety for accuracy and statistical reconciliation.

Arrests for weapons, drugs and alcohol are statistically scored and do not also result in a judicial referral. Public Safety is only required to score one arrest if multiple violations of weapons drugs or alcohol were apparent. Typically, Public Safety scores weapons arrests first, followed by drugs and then alcohol.

If no arrest was made yet results in a statistical score for more than one violation of weapons, drugs, or alcohol laws, only one of the categories shall be used. For instance, in most cases involving drugs and alcohol Public Safety scores only the drug violation. This is in accordance with standing practice and is acceptable under federal law.

St. Thomas Weapons Policy

Exceptions

St. Thomas Public Safety Department employees and external law enforcement officers or other government personnel who are required, by their position of employment, to carry a weapon while on or in St. Thomas property are excepted from this policy, provided that their possession and (if applicable) use of a weapon has been properly authorized by their employer and complies with all laws, policies and procedures applicable to such possession and use.

In addition, consistent with Minnesota law, Covered Persons who have a valid permit to carry a firearm and who comply with all legal requirements associated with such permit may keep the firearm in a trunk or glove compartment of their locked motor vehicle, including when the vehicle is parked on St. Thomas property. St. Thomas Hate Crimes and Bias- Motivated Incidents Policy

“Acts of intolerance (hate crimes) in any form at the University of St. Thomas are not tolerated and must be condemned.” (Father Dennis Dease, university president, Bulletin Today, March 26, 2007)

“We respect the dignity of each person and value the unique contributions that each brings to the greater mosaic of the university community.” (University of St. Thomas Conviction #4)

Policy Statement

The University of St. Thomas continually strives to meet the highest standards of respect and civility that are both implicit and explicit in its vision, mission and convictions. It is the university's goal that no member of the University community shall be subject to any physical or verbal harassment, abuse or violence based on the individual's race, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, national origin, religion or physical or mental disability. The value placed upon human dignity and diversity should be interpreted as augmenting, not infringing upon "freedom of expression" or "academic freedom." As a result, the university has adopted a policy that is designed to investigate and resolve such claims in a direct and thorough manner while respecting the rights of all parties involved.

Section I applicability and Sanctions

This policy applies to all students, prospective students, employees, and campus visitors. This includes:

- all students taking courses, either full or part time, whether non-degree pursuing undergraduate, or graduate degrees;
- anyone living on campus;
- students who have been notified of their acceptance for admission;
- all employees while on campus; and
- all employees taking part in university-sponsored activities and/or university-related business.

In determining whether alleged conduct is a hate crime or a bias-motivated incident, the university shall consider the record as a whole and the totality of circumstances, including the nature of the incident and the context in which the alleged incident(s) occurred. While related statements, practices and procedures are elaborated in other University documents (i.e., Code of Conduct, Faculty Handbook, Employee Handbook, Statement on Offensive Behavior), individuals determined to have violated this policy shall be sanctioned and subject to a range of disciplinary measures up to and including termination and expulsion.

Section II Definitions

As used in this Policy, the following terms are defined:

Hate crime: At St. Thomas, a hate crime is defined as an actual criminal offense motivated in whole or in part by the offender's bias toward the complainant based on race, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, national origin, religion or physical or mental disability.

Bias-motivated incident: At St. Thomas, a bias-motivated incident is defined as conduct, speech or act of intolerance motivated by another's actual or perceived race, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, national origin, religion or physical or mental disability.

A bias-motivated incident may or may not be criminal in nature. Sufficient objective facts must be presented to lead a reasonable and prudent person to conclude that the actions in question may be motivated by bias toward or against a targeted individual or group.

The University of St. Thomas will determine how offenses and/or incidents should be classified. Multiple forms of evidence and professional expertise will be utilized in making appropriate distinctions between a hate crime and bias-motivated incident.

Section III Reporting

For the welfare of individuals and the community, it is critical that anyone within the University of St. Thomas community who believes she or he has experienced or observed a hate crime or bias-motivated incident should report it by contacting the Public Safety Department at (651) 962-5555 for emergency or (651) 962-5100 for non-emergency. Individuals also may contact the police by dialing 911 from an outside line. Doing so allows authorities to take necessary action to preserve evidence, pursue the assailant or take other appropriate steps. The Public Safety Department will assist public law enforcement in a timely manner to obtain, secure and maintain evidence in connection with the reported hate crime or bias-motivated incident.

Reporting a hate crime or bias -motivated incident does not mean an individual must file criminal charges. No matter where individuals first report the incident, a report should also be filed with the Public Safety Department. This report may be made directly or with the assistance of a faculty/staff member at the university.

At the victim's request, the university will investigate and respond to an allegation of hate crime or bias-motivated incident.

St. Thomas reserves the right to pursue a formal investigation if there is a possibility that one or more members of the community may be harmed by the university's failure to follow up on the hate crime or bias-motivated incident or it is in the university's best interest to investigate the alleged crime or incident.

The university urges complainants and witnesses to:

1. Contact the Public Safety Department at (651) 962 -5555 for emergency or (651) 962-5100 for non-emergency, and/or contact the police by dialing 911 from an outside line as soon as possible.
2. Remain at the scene, if it is safe, until an authority arrives; do not touch or tamper with evidence.

Section IV Legal Context and National Reporting

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act or "Clery Act" is a federal statute codified at 20 U.S.C. § 1092(f), with implementing regulations in the U.S. Code of Federal Regulations at 34 CFR 668.46. The Clery Act requires St. Thomas and other institutions of higher learning that participate in federal financial aid programs to keep and disclose information about crime on and near their respective campuses. The act also requires the university to publish and to distribute an Annual Campus Security Report to provide timely warnings of crimes that represent a threat to the safety of students or employees, and to keep the most recent three years of statistics on specific types of crimes that occur on campus, in the institution's residential facilities, in non-campus buildings, or on public property. The university must indicate if any of the offenses and especially those resulting in bodily injuries, were the result of a "hate crime."

Section V Responsibilities

The appropriate Academic and Administrative Advisory Committee member will be responsible for communicating, disseminating, recommending revision, and broadly educating the campus community about this policy and its procedures. All students, faculty, staff and campus visitors are responsible for adhering to this policy. The appropriate Academic and Administrative Advisory Committee member will ensure fair treatment and the Public Safety Department will respect the rights of the complainants and the accused.

(4) Crimes by location

The University of St. Thomas must provide a geographic breakdown of the statistics reported under Crimes that must be reported and reported crimes if a hate crime, according to the following categories:

(i) On campus

(ii) Of the crimes reported in paragraph (c)(4)(i) of this section, the number of crimes that took place in dormitories or other residential facilities for students on campus.

(iii) In or on a non-campus building or property.

In these agreements, St. Thomas neither owns or controls the space or established security policies and practices. St. Thomas students understand they abide by all rules of the visiting school. As such, St. Thomas provides access to these programs not physical use of the space. These institutions and locations are not considered non-campus buildings or property.

The University of St. Thomas considers the following addresses to be non-campus property as defined in this report. Data requests were made from each of these locations through their city or county government for crime data only during the times the University of St. Thomas used these locations. No reportable data was found for any of these locations:

See Attachment A and Attachment C for information on the procedures.

(7) For purposes of including a fire in the statistics in the annual fire safety report, a list of the titles of each person or organization to which students and employees should report that a fire occurred.

All fires are to be reported to Public Safety.

(8) Plans for future improvements in fire safety, if determined necessary by the institution.

At this time, this is unknown.

(c) Fire Statistics

The University of St. Thomas must report statistics for each on-campus student housing facility, for the three most recent calendar years for which data are available, concerning—

- The number of fires and the cause of each fire.
- The number of persons who received fire-related injuries that resulted in treatment at a medical facility, including at an on-campus health center.
- The number of deaths related to a fire; and
- The value of property damage caused by a fire

Attachment D

The University of St. Thomas is required to submit fire statistics to the Secretary on an annual basis.

Fire log

The University of St. Thomas maintains on-campus student housing facilities and therefore must maintain a written, easily understood fire log that records, by the date that the fire was reported, any fire that occurred in an on-campus student housing facility. This log, updated and maintained by Public Safety, must include the nature, date, time, and general location of each fire.

Public Safety must make an entry or an addition to an entry to the log within two business days of the receipt of the information.

The University of St. Thomas must make the fire log for the most recent 60-day period open to public inspection during normal business hours. The institution must make any portion of the log older than 60 days available within two business days of a request for public inspection.

The University of St. Thomas must make an annual report to the campus community on the fires recorded in the fire log. This requirement may be satisfied by the annual fire safety report described in this report See Attachment D

Emergency Notification, Response and Evacuation

Introduction

The University of St. Thomas (UST) is dedicated to providing a safe and secure environment for students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) requires institutions to disclose emergency response policies and evacuation procedures that will be implemented whenever a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists on campus that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff or community members.

Policy Statement

It is the policy of the university to be in compliance with the HEOA Emergency Response and Evacuation Regulations.

Reporting an Emergency

All members of the St. Thomas community are urged to report any potential or actual emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, employees or guests that may be occurring on the campus. Members shall call the St. Thomas Public Safety Department emergency number at 651-962-5555 or notify the Bernardi Campus Director.

Institutional Response

The Public Safety Department will initiate the institutional response by immediately investigating these reports. The Public Safety Department may request assistance from other emergency responders e.g. police, fire, emergency management offices or other university departments or units, as necessary, to confirm that a significant emergency or dangerous situation exists on campus that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff or community members.

Examples may include, but are not limited to:

- Bomb threats or other imminent violent threats
- Fires, natural gas leaks and hazardous spills affecting the entire campus
- Building evacuations and shelter in place situations affecting the entire campus
- Biological or pandemic emergency notifications
- Natural disasters
- Power outages and utility failures resulting in an imminent threat
- Campus closure due to declared civil emergency

Emergency Notification

Once a significant emergency or dangerous situation is confirmed on campus that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff or visitors the Public Safety Department will notify students, employees and other community members without unreasonable delay. This shall not apply if the Public Safety Department determines that an immediate notification would place the St. Thomas community or a victim at greater risk or would compromise efforts to contain, respond to or mitigate the threat to the health or safety of students, employees or community members. It is the responsibility of the Public Safety Department to coordinate this notification. It may consult and seek the assistance of other departments or units, as necessary to:

- Determine the content of any notification
- Determine the appropriate campus segments to notify
- Initiate the appropriate notification system
- Continue to update the St. Thomas community during the emergency

This will be done in coordination with the Bernardi Campus Director.

Methods of Communication

St. Thomas has several systems in place for communicating emergency information to members of the community. Any or all of the following methods of emergency notification may be used depending on the type and nature of the emergency:

- St. Thomas Emergency Notification System
- University web site
- Voice Mail System
- E-mail System
- Social Networking Sites
- Emergency telephone voice recording
- Public address systems
- Personal communication
- Signage

St. Thomas Emergency Notification System: This is an electronic system for quickly delivering emergency messages to students, faculty and staff. Notifications may be sent via landline phones, cell phones, text messages and e-mail. Messages will be brief, include basic information and provide instructions on how to obtain more details. The St. Thomas Emergency Notification System will be used only for a confirmed significant emergency or dangerous situation exists on campus that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of students, staff or community members.

All students and employees are encouraged to keep their St. Thomas Emergency notification information up to date in MURPHY Online.

University web site: Updated information following a message notifying the campus of an emergency will be found on the university website, available for the university and general communities and media outlets, if warranted. In cases of extreme emergency, the university has the ability to replace the regular website with a website designed for emergency communications only. Regular website functionality can be obtained from a link on the emergency website. Unlike some of the methods, this communication vehicle requires the person to be first notified separately to go the site for this information. This is viewed as a secondary level of communication.

E-Mail System: In addition to the Emergency notification system, e-mails may be sent to specific groups through distribution lists or campus wide.

Social Networking Sites: The University has access to social networking sites where notices and updates can be provided. Unlike some of the methods, this communication vehicle requires the person to be first notified separately to go the site for this information. This is viewed as a secondary level of communication.

Emergency telephone voice recording: In addition to the Emergency notification system, a voicemail may be placed on all holders of a University telephone. Once the message is placed on the phone, the person listening would need to acknowledge the message prior to proceeding with the use of the phone.

Text messaging: The university has the ability to send limited information through text messages.

Call: The university also has text to voice ability to call out to inform people of an emergency.

Public address systems: Specific areas and buildings on campus have public address systems which can be used in the case of an emergency to disseminate information. In addition, Public Safety has hand held PA devices and its vehicles are equipped with public address systems which can be used in specific emergencies.

Personal communication: This involves direct contact with people and informing them of the situation and updates. One of the more popular methods to implement this communication is through the use of runners. Also, individual departments and units are encouraged to maintain a variety of forms of personal communication, including phone trees and email lists that can be accessed if needed.

Signage: A variety of signage may be created to help provide directions or instructions. These may include electronic signage for traffic, the posting of written signs, or the use of “A-frame” signs .

Testing

All emergency communications methods are tested on at least an annual basis, according to standards as appropriate.

Fire Evacuation Drills are conducted in on campus student housing facilities once an academic year. This test can be either announced or un-announced evacuation drill. An assessment is conducted to determine any issues with the system or evacuation. See attachment C for date each drill was conducted.

Evacuation

In the case of fire alarm, all persons must leave the building by the nearest available exit. Elevators are not to be used. For severe weather or tornado warnings, occupants should go the basement or interior hallways away from windows or glass

Policy Awareness

This policy will be included in the Emergency Guide, which is available electronically at the Department of Public Safety website <https://www.stthomas.edu/publicsafety/emergencyguide/>.

Building Evacuation during a Fire, Weather Emergency

I. General Evacuation

- A. Public Safety recommends members of the community preplan any evacuation. This may include knowing the location of all of the exits, making alternative routes to the exits, knowing where exit doors lead to, and knowing general safety procedures.

- B. In the case of a localized fire alarm (a fire alarm that is limited to a room), the occupants shall leave the room and shut the door.
- C. In the case of a full building fire alarm or at the direction of a university or other public safety official, all students, employees, or guests must immediately leave the building or area through the nearest available exit. During the evacuation the person shall:
- Close all of the room's windows;
 - Before opening any door, feel the door. If it is HOT, do not open it; if it is not hot, brace yourself against the door, open it slightly, and if heat or heavy smoke are present, close the door and stay in the room. If you are unable to leave the room call emergency services and give them your name and location. Also hang something bright in the window to attract attention.
 - If the door is not hot, leave immediately and shut the door when you leave. (Do not lock it)
 - Do not use any cell phone during the evacuation unless it is an emergency.
 - Do not use elevators during an evacuation.
 - Exit in an orderly fashion. Do not run or push. Running can lead to falls and injuries.
 - Gather at a designated a safe location or distance from the building or area, taking care not to block entrances and exits for other people including emergency personnel. Depending on the nature of the emergency, people may be directed to one of the alternative meeting areas. (See Attachment A for alternative meeting locations.)
 - Stay together and assess who is present by gathering names.
 - Report the condition and location of any persons unable to leave the building or area or who need assistance to Public Safety or other emergency personnel.
- D. Wait for the all clear to reenter the space or proceed to an alternative meeting location or designated shelter.

Evacuation for Individuals with Disabilities during an Emergency

I. Notification of Residence Hall Students with Disability

- A. If there is a student living in a residence hall and discloses a mobility disability, the student shall meet with Director of Enhancement Program - Disability Services to discuss emergency evacuation processes including access of elevators during emergencies or malfunctions. This will result in an individualized emergency plan for the student.

- B. In these cases, the Director of Enhancement Program-Disability Services will notify the Lead Communications Supervisor and Special Projects Manager of Public Safety and the Director and Associate Directors of Residence Life of the student's name, residence hall and phone numbers. They will keep this information on file in case of an emergency evacuation of the building or elevator malfunction.
- C. If there is fire or fire alarm in the student's assigned residence hall, the Public Safety dispatcher will advise the responding officers and one of the officers will go to the room as soon as possible to update the student and determine any assistance that may be needed.
- D. In the case of a non-emergency elevator malfunction in a residence hall that Public Safety is aware of, it will notify the on-call Hall Director. This director will notify any student whose name has been forwarded by the Director of Enhancement Program - Disability Services of the malfunction.

II. Mobility Disability Evacuation for Fire

- A. In the case of a fire or fire alarm, the person who has a mobility disability and is unable to leave directly from the building or without the assistance of an elevator, the person shall stay in the room with the doors closed. The person should also tell someone who is leaving building to ask for further assistance from emergency services.
- B. When a Public Safety Officer makes contact with the person, the officer will assess the situation and advise the person that if evacuation of the building is needed and further assistance is required, this will be done by the responding fire department. If required, the officer will immediately notify the fire department of the location of the person, and transmit the information to dispatch.

III. Mobility Disability Evacuation for Other Emergencies

- A. If there is a severe thunderstorm or tornado warning, the person with a mobility disability shall try to evacuate to the basement or designated shelter in the building. If unable to evacuate, the person will stay in the room and if possible go into an interior wall area or bathroom.
- B. Other evacuations for emergencies will be based on the nature of the emergency. Except in a natural gas evacuation, the person may call emergency services and advise the dispatcher of the room location and assistance that may be needed.

Active Shooter/Gun Shots

- Contact police as soon as possible.
- Provide a description of the person, nature of behavior, and the last known location of the person.
- Public Safety will immediately notify police.
- Do not pull any fire alarm in an attempt to alert other people of the incident or to frighten the suspect

Options for you to consider with an Active Shooter Situation

Run. When an active shooter is in your vicinity:

- If there is an escape path, attempt to evacuate.
- Evacuate whether others agree to or not.

- Leave your belongings behind.
- Help others escape if possible.
- Prevent others from entering the area.
- Call police when you are safe.

Hide. If you cannot evacuate or get out safely, you need to find a place to hide, remain quiet and calm.

- Act quickly and quietly.
- Try to secure your hiding place the best you can. It should be out of the shooter's view, provide protection if shots are fired in your direction, and not trap or restrict your options for movement.
- Turn out lights, and if possible, remember to lock doors.
- Lock and/or blockade the door.
- Silence your cell phone.
 - Hide behind large objects.
 - Remain very quiet.

Fight. As a last resort, and only if your life is in danger:

- Attempt to incapacitate the shooter.
- Act with physical aggression.
- Improvise weapons.
- Commit to your actions.

When law enforcement arrives:

- Remain calm and follow instructions.
- Keep your hands visible at all times.
- Avoid pointing or yelling.
- Know that help for the injured is on its way.

Bomb Threat

Remain calm.

Use this telephone checklist to record information concerning the bomb threat. Have this list ready for the authorities when they arrive.

Employees or students receiving or discovering a bomb threat or emergency should immediately call the Public Safety Department at 651-962-5555 and Police.

The decision to evacuate the building will be based on the credibility of the threat and the nature of the threat. The Director of Public Safety, in conjunction with Senior Administration, will authorize the evacuation.

If a bomb threat is received by phone, ask:

- When is the bomb going to explode?
- Where is the bomb right now?
- What kind of bomb is it?
- What does it look like?
- Why did you place the bomb?
- Keep the caller on the phone as long as possible!

Record the following information for Public Safety:

- Time of call.
- Date of call.
- Exact words of person.
- Judge the voice: male, female, child, approximate age, do they sound coherent, etc.

- Speech pattern, accent.
- Background noises and description (music, people talking, cars, or trucks, airplanes, children or babies, machine noise, typing, etc.)

What you should do about suspicious mail and packages?

- Do not handle the envelope or package.
- Leave the immediate area.
- Notify Public Safety at (962)-5555 and stop anyone from entering the area where the package is located.

What Will Happen Next?

- Depending upon the circumstances, the Police Bomb Squad may be dispatched to the scene.
- Depending upon the circumstances, a search of the building may be conducted under the direction of Public Safety and the Police.
- The Police Bomb Squad will contact and interview the person who received the bomb threat.
- An evacuation may take place.
- When authorized, the “All Clear” will be given by the Public Safety Department.

Medical Emergencies

Call the ambulance service. Give the following information:

- Building location (exact location)
- Type of injury, illness, or symptoms

Do not move a seriously injured person unless they are in a life threatening situation.

If you notice any jewelry with an inscription indicating medical information, bring this to the officer’s attention.

What will happen next?

- Public Safety will respond and assess the situation to determine if it is necessary to notify paramedics.
- Public Safety officers will administer first aid and, if appropriate, prepare for the arrival of emergency units.
- Paramedics and Public Safety officers will administer medical assistance and assist with information, reports, etc.
- If a person does not choose further medical attention, the person will sign a Public Safety Medical Assistance release form.

Missing Persons

This policy is developed in accordance with the 34 CFR 668.46 and contains the official notification procedures for the University of St. Thomas concerning missing students and guests including those who reside in on-campus housing.

“Missing” means when a person has not been seen or made any contact with another person and the person’s location is unknown and unexplainable for a period of time that is regarded by knowledgeable parties as highly unusual or suspicious in consideration of the person’s usual behavior patterns, plans or routines.

See page 65 specifically for Bernardi campus.

PUBLIC SAFETY RESPONSIBILITIES

The primary department at the University of St. Thomas for the response, investigation and coordination of missing persons will be Public Safety. Also, the department will be the university’s liaison and assist the primary law enforcement agency having jurisdiction for the investigation of missing persons.

As appropriate, the Public Safety department will consult with and seek assistance from other university departments or law enforcement agencies in a missing person case.

The Director of Public Safety and the Dean of Students will confer and determine if and when the University Action and Response Team (UART) may be notified in the case of missing persons.

II. INFORMATION TO BE PROVIDED BY STUDENTS

- A. University of St. Thomas students may identify a confidential contact that may be contacted within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing from campus. They may do so by completing the appropriate registration forms during address verification procedures in MURPHY ONLINE. The request for this contact is different than the emergency contact request even though the names supplied by the student may be the same. Students may change this name at any time through MURPHY.
- B. When registering, students are advised that their contact information will be confidential, that this information will be accessible only to authorized campus officials, and that it may not be disclosed except to law enforcement personnel in the furtherance of a missing person investigation.
- C. The custodial parent or legal guardian of students under the age of 18 will also be contacted no later than 24 hours after the student is determined to be missing.

III. NOTIFICATION to PUBLIC SAFETY REQUIRED

- A. Public Safety shall be immediately notified by a university employee or student or member of the university community who has reason to believe:
 - 1. that a student who resides in on-campus housing is missing for 24 hours; or
 - 2. there is a student or guest under the age of 18 who is missing.

The person should call 651-962-5555 if it is an emergency and 651-962-5100 in other cases. The Director of the Bernardi Campus will assist and coordinate.

- B. If the missing person is under the age of 18, Public Safety will immediately take a report, call the local police department and commence a search. On the Bernardi Campus the director of the campus will call.
- C. Public Safety will take a report and notify the police within 24 hours of the determination that a student who is over the age of 18 years old and resides on campus is missing. Also, Public Safety will commence a reasonable search of the campus based on the available information. The Bernardi Director will conduct a search of the Bernardi Campus.
- D. In all other cases of a missing person from campus, Public Safety will take a report, commence a reasonable search of the campus based on the available information and the reporting party will be directed to contact the police department where the person was last seen or went missing from.
- E. If the person is missing from a location other than campus, the reporting party will be directed to contact the appropriate police department.
- F. Public Safety shall take a report, commence a campus search and contact the local police in any case when there is a missing student, employee or guest from campus and there are unusual circumstances including but not limited to: person's medical condition, location the person was last seen, weather, documentation or statements made by the person, potential victim of foul play, or reasons to believe the person may be a danger to themselves or others. The Bernardi Campus Director will make the phone call to police for incidents on the Bernardi Campus.

IV. INFORMATION for PUBLIC SAFETY

- A. The person contacting Public Safety should try to provide as much information to Public Safety as possible including: name, age, and address of the person, date and time last seen, medical condition, any physical or intellectual disabilities, time last seen, location last seen, any circumstances related to the person's absence and a physical description of the person.
- B. Any vehicles, computers, residence hall rooms, or other personal belongings for the missing person from campus should be secured; including rekeying the room.

V. RESPONSE and INVESTIGATION

- A. In a missing person case originating from on campus, The Incident Command System will be implemented. The first responding officer will obtain available information about the incident and determine the resources that will be needed. The officer will also notify the supervisor on-duty.
- B. If warranted a preliminary search of the area will be conducted and other needed resources activated.

- C. The on-duty supervisor will then contact the manager on-duty and update information. The manager on-duty will contact the Director or Associate Director of Public Safety if the person is a student, or the person is missing from campus. They will then coordinate the response and investigation.

VI. COMMUNICATION

- A. The Director, Associate Director, or designees will coordinate the communication of a missing student to Student Life, university public relations, Academic Affairs or other appropriate department. In the case of a non-student, the communication will be with the person or department responsible for the person on campus.
- B. If it is determined an on-campus residence student has been missing for 24 hours, the Director of Public Safety, Dean of Students, and Director of Residence Life shall coordinate informing the confidential contact of the missing student and the associate director will be responsible for notifying the local law enforcement agency.
- C. Any internal or external communication by the university regarding the missing person will be coordinated by Public Safety, university public relations, and the local police department.
- D. University public relations or its designee shall serve as the spokesperson of the university to internal and external constituents on these cases.

Rome Specific Information:

If a member of the Bernardi campus community has reason to believe that a UST student is missing, whether or not the student resides in-house, all possible efforts are made to locate the student to determine his or her state of health and well-being through the collaboration of the Prati Questura, the Bernardi campus director, the Office of Study Abroad, or the College of Arts and Sciences (Associate Dean).

If necessary, and if the student is a Bernardi campus resident, the Prati Questura will be given immediate authorization from the campus director to make a welfare entry into that student's room. University officials will endeavor to determine the student's whereabouts through contact with friends, associates, and/or employers of the student. Whether or not the student has been attending classes, labs, recitals, and scheduled organizational or academic meetings will be established.

If located, verification of the student's state of health and intention of returning to the campus is made. When and where appropriate (if the need is determined) a referral will be made to contracted professional counselor(s) and/or medical practitioners. If not located, family notification will be made within 24 hours of receiving the initial report to determine if they know the whereabouts of the student.

Bernardi campus officials will cooperate, aid, and assist the primary investigative agency in all ways prescribed by prevailing law. The Bernardi campus director will remain at the disposal and cooperate thoroughly with the official investigation by the primary investigative unit.

All pertinent law enforcement agencies will be notified through direct telephone contact or visit and asked to render assistance. Upon closure of the investigation, all parties previously contacted will be advised of the status of the case.

Reports for Fires and Alarms

Definitions

For the purposes of this policy the following terms are defined based on 34 CFR 668.49, the federal law that requires colleges and universities to have policies related to fires and fire alarms.

Cause of fire: The factor or factors that give rise to a fire. The causal factor may be, but is not limited to, the result of an intentional or unintentional action, mechanical failure, or act of nature.

Fire-related injury: Any instance in which a person is injured as a result of a fire, including an injury sustained from a natural or accidental cause, while involved in fire control, attempting rescue, or escaping from the dangers of the fire. The term “person” may include students, employees, visitors, firefighters, or any other individuals.

Fire: Any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or in an uncontrolled manner

Fire-related death: Any instance in which a person—

- (1) Is killed as a result of a fire, including death resulting from a natural or accidental cause while involved in fire control, attempting rescue, or escaping from the dangers of a fire; or
- (2) Dies within one year of injuries sustained as a result of the fire.

Value of property damage: The estimated value of the loss of the structure and contents, in terms of the cost of replacement in like kind and quantity. This estimate should include contents damaged by fire, and related damages caused by smoke, water, and overhaul; however, it does not include indirect loss, such as business interruption.

Reporting of Fires: Any fire or fire alarm on campus must be reported to the Public Safety Department. This also includes any extinguished fire.

ICR and Report Policy: An Initial Complaint Report (ICR) is required when the fire system or alarm has been tampered, pull stations activated with no evidence of a fire or emergency and including but not limited to the following cases:

- there is activation of a building sprinkler alarm and the fire department is called;
- any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or in an uncontrolled manner ;
- there is any damage caused by smoke or flame;
- hazardous material spill; or
- any gas or pressure steam leak (not steam from shower or cooking)when the fire department or energy company are notified.

This applies regardless if the fire alarm is localized, full building or there is no alarm at all. If there is any doubt that an ICR is required, the officer shall write a report. A report and ICR is not necessary when there is overcooked food that creates smoke and not a flame, when there is no damage, and the overcooked food is confined to its original cooking container. For the purposes of CAD and any report the term “overcooked food” will be used rather than “burned” food.

In addition to the required information for any Public Safety report, a report or CAD entry required by this policy must contain the following information:

- The number of fires and the cause of each fire;
- The number of persons who received fire-related injuries that resulted in treatment at a medical facility, including at an on-campus health center;
- The number of deaths related to a fire; and
- The value of property damage caused by a fire
- The value of ancillary property damage and its cause.

The value of the property damage caused by the fire will be determined by the owner of the property. In the case of University of St. Thomas property the determination will be made by the department staff member who is responsible for the property. The officer who is responsible for writing the report will also coordinate the determination of the value from the owner. If the information is not immediately received, the officer will follow-up with the property owner and write a supplemental report documenting the value of the damage. The officer will also notify the Special Projects manager by e-mail of the value of amount of the damage.

Examples

To assist with understanding this section on a fire and reports, four examples are provided.

- A fire alarm is set off and after the investigation; it is determined steam from a shower set off the alarm. This is considered an alarm malfunction. The information is entered into CAD but no ICR or report is needed. However, a RFS should be submitted to PHP with a copy given to the Special Projects Manager.
- A fire alarm is set off and after the investigation it is determined there was overcooked popcorn in the microwave. An ICR and report are not needed unless there was a flame or damage that resulted. All details about the call must be entered into the CAD.
- A fire alarm is set off and after the investigation it is determined smoke from a candle was created when the person blew out the candle. The candle was inside of the holder. No report for a fire is needed because the burning was in a place that is intended to contain the burning. However, a report still needs to be written for a policy violation.
- On routine patrol, an officer finds burned toilet paper on the floor in one of the residence hall bathrooms. A report would be required because there was burning in place not intended to contain the burning.
- There is a report of a light bulb that flashes, sparks fly, chars the shade, and creates smoke. The owner of the property calls Public Safety. There would be a report because there was a fire and smoke.
- Outside a St. Thomas class room buildings there is a concrete ashtray that has several cigarettes burning in it. The officer is required to use water to extinguish it. A report is not needed because the purpose of the concrete ashtray is intended for this use.
- A person in Flynn hall is cooking walleye. The walleye becomes overcooked. It begins to fill the room with smoke. The cook takes the cast iron pan and puts it on the Formica counter. This causes a large burn on the top of the counter and creates some smoke. A report is needed because of the burning of the Formica. Also, if the smell of burned fish stays, there is smoke damage. This damage would be included in the report for the damage to the counter.

Fire Statistics and Fire Log Policy

The fire log as required by 34 CFR 668.49 will be the responsibility of Special Projects office in conjunction with the Associate Director. This log shall contain records, by the date that the fire was reported, any fire that occurred on-campus, and indicate if the building was a student housing facility. This log must include the nature, date, time, and general location of each fire. An entry or an addition to an entry to the log shall be made within two business days, as defined under CFR 668.46(a), of the receipt of the information.

The log will be maintained at the Public Safety Communications Center and it must make the fire log for the most recent 60-day period open to public inspection during normal business hours. Public Safety must make any portion of the log older than 60 days available within two business days of a request for public inspection. This information will also be forwarded to the Crime Prevention sergeant to be included on the Public Safety's web page.

In addition, the Special Projects office in conjunction with the Associate Director shall maintain the fire statistics including:

- The number of fires and the cause of each fire;
- The number of persons who received fire-related injuries that resulted in treatment at a medical facility, including at an on-campus health center;
- The number of deaths related to a fire; and
- The value of property damage caused by a fire.
- The value of ancillary property damage and its cause.

The Associate Director shall report on behalf of the university a copy of the fire statistics to the Secretary for Education on an annual basis.

Alcohol and Drug-Free University Policy

Policy number: 123
Policy owner: Human Resources

Date of initial publication: August 17, 2023
Date of latest revision: N/A

SECTION I. PURPOSE

This policy is enacted in compliance with the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 1989 and the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988. The University of St. Thomas seeks to foster moral responsibility and a culture of care that supports the well-being of all community members.

SECTION II. SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all students and all employees, including faculty, staff, and student workers.

SECTION III. DEFINITIONS

When used in this policy, the following terms have the following meanings:

- a. Alcohol means alcoholic products persons under 21 are prohibited from possessing and/or consuming under state law.
- b. Drugs or Controlled Substances mean drugs and other substances regulated and/or prohibited under state and/or federal law, including the federal Controlled Substances Act. These substances include but are not limited to illicit drugs such as heroin, cocaine, methamphetamine, LSD, MDMA (Ecstasy), as well as certain prescription medications like opioids (e.g., oxycodone, hydrocodone) and stimulants (e.g., Adderall) when used without a valid prescription. Drugs or Controlled Substances also means all cannabis products, whether lawful or not.

SECTION IV. INDIVIDUAL USE POLICY

Students and employees are prohibited from engaging in the illegal possession, manufacture, use, or distribution of alcohol, drugs or controlled substances, and drug paraphernalia on all University property (indoors and outdoors), in University-supplied vehicles, and as part of University activities and business.

A. Alcohol and Drugs - Students

No student under the age of 21 may use or possess alcohol.

- Students of legal drinking age may possess and participate in responsible consumption of alcohol in university residence halls, in accordance with Residence Life policies.
- Students of legal drinking age living off-campus may participate in responsible consumption in accordance with city and state laws and ordinances. Abuse of these privileges may result in student conduct proceedings by the University.
- Students must comply with the University's Alcoholic Beverages Policy.

The use, possession, manufacturing, and/or trafficking of illegal drugs is prohibited. The University reserves the right to report illegal drug use and may refer a student to criminal or civil authorities in cases regarding trafficking or intent to distribute illegal drugs.

The abuse, misuse, sale, or distribution of prescription or over-the-counter medications is also prohibited. This includes the use of prescription medications not prescribed to the individual by a licensed healthcare provider.

Failure to abide by the above expectations will be addressed through the student conduct process and will result in consequences under the Student Conduct Code, which identifies other alcohol- and drug-related expectations and the potential consequences for violations.

B. Alcohol and Drugs - Employees

The University's Workplace Conduct Policy prohibits the following while on University property or as a part of any University-sponsored event or University-funded activity:

- The unlawful possession, use or distribution of alcohol, drugs, or drug paraphernalia and the possession, use or distribution of cannabis;
- Being under the influence of illicit drugs or impaired by alcohol or cannabis; and
- The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of controlled substances in the workplace.

Violations of these expectations will result in disciplinary sanctions under the Workplace Conduct Policy, which identifies other alcohol- and drug-related expectations and the potential consequences for violations. Additionally, employees must comply with the University's Alcoholic Beverages Policy.

C. Cannabis - Students and Employees

Although Minnesota state law permits adults aged 21 years or older to possess and consume cannabis under certain circumstances, federal law still generally prohibits the possession, use, or distribution of cannabis on St. Thomas's campus. Therefore, the use, distribution, or possession of cannabis, including products containing THC (such as certain CBD products), is not permitted on St. Thomas property.

SECTION V. RISKS AND SANCTIONS

Alcohol and drug misuse carries a range of short- and long-term health effects and risks, including physical impairment, altered thinking and judgment, addiction, and disease. Information about these risks can be found on the National Institutes of Health's website.

Abuse may negatively impact a person's education, career, finances, and personal relationships. In addition to disciplinary consequences under applicable University policies, illegal use, distribution, or possession of alcohol or drugs could lead to criminal prosecution and penalties under local, state, and federal law, including fines and imprisonment (depending on the offense). Convictions may also result in the denial of driving privileges and government benefits. Below are links to relevant criminal laws and penalties for alcohol and drug offenses:

- Federal Controlled Substances Act, 21 U.S. 801 et al
- Minnesota controlled substances laws and sanctions
- Minnesota law – underage alcohol offenses

- Minnesota law – driving while impaired, including underage drinking and driving

SECTION VI. ASSISTANCE FOR THOSE SEEKING HELP

St. Thomas encourages members of its community who want or need help to seek assistance.

The Center for Well Being offers clinical and educational services to students seeking help for issues related to their drug and/or alcohol use. The University encourages members of its community affected by or concerned for another person's alcohol or drug abuse to seek confidential assistance at the Center for Well Being. Professional staff can help the concerned individual plan a strategy to address the specific issue.

Employees may seek assistance through the University's Employee Assistance Program. For information about the University's Employee Assistance Program, please refer to St. Thomas's EAP Information, available on OneStThomas. In addition, any member of the University community who is concerned about use, abuse and rehabilitation is strongly encouraged to contact their family physician or health plan.

Lastly, St. Thomas students are expected to care for themselves and others in the St. Thomas community. See the University's Good Samaritan Policy regarding helping an individual impaired by alcohol or drug consumption.
